Paul has over 40 years' experience working in the finance sector which includes 38 years working as a commercial bank manager at a prestigious and nationwide high street bank.

As a partner at Synergy Commercial Finance, Paul now has access to over 200 reputable lenders. If you go to your bank to borrow money, you see someone who works for the bank and has access to only one lender. Paul acts as a quasi bank manager to you with over 200 lenders behind him! With Paul dealing with your commercial borrowing request, he is able to save you time, money and stress.

The last few months with Covid 19 has been a tough time for many clients with some lenders withdrawing from previously agreed arrangements they had with them. Also, some lenders are no longer taking on new clients. With Paul having access to so many lenders, he has still been able to help clients through these difficult times. Could he perhaps help you or another business that may be struggling getting access to funding?
